Good weather and an enjoyable course. I set off feeling dire with a streaming cold and was expecting to drop out. Strangely, I felt better the further I went. So much so, that when I punctured rattling down to Grains Bridge (before the road section to Peckett Well) I was reasonably cheerful (for me!) even though it took over 5 minutes just to get my pump fitted onto the STUPIDLY short valve stem on my spare (now in the bin along with it's fellows!) inner tube! Yes, I knew the tyre was on the soft side but lazily thought I would get away with it.

Sunday 5th Oct

After freezing on the preceeding day in a failed attempt to practice the Calderdale marathon, I warned everyone to wrap up well. Of course that ensured that it was a warm day!

We inspected the repair work on the Roych trail which, at present, is very much unfinished after about a year of the track being officially closed. The section uphill from the Clough going South still had us all pushing. We whipped round smartish inspite of an incorrect route to Caldwell Clough (Could have happened to anyone!)

Broken Saddles

Wed Night 15th Oct.

Roadie's was the first to go - flapping loosely which meant that he could not stand up. Stuart could not sit down as his clamp demonstrated one of the drawbacks of ultra-lightweight gear.

They contemplated doing the manly thing and riding saddle-less but sensibly decided to retire for a early start in the pub, instead. (Well, they are not allowed out much!)

I blame it on excessive speed!

The rest of us continued on an uneventful ride with a sting in the tail contributed by Gary (What, you mean up there?)

First to Ride on Snow?

Friday 24th Oct. I did the "New Mill Night Route" and came across a patch of the white stuff (OK it was only about 10x4 cm!) by Broadstone Res. Came back with a clean(ish) bike!

North Wales - No Takers?

...So Harry and I went away midweek on Thurs 30th in spite of a dire weather forecast for rain and more rain.

... We did not need waterproofs once and even saw some blue sky and sun! Always ignore forecasts! On Thurs we did the Marin trail near Betws y Coed. Started it from the free car park in Llanwrst (On main road just North of town centre about 10 mins from the official - rather isolated car park.) rather than Betws. It took us about 1hr 50mins to do the 16 miles at a reasonably speedy pace. There is lots of up and down (Long up at the start!) The fireroad/singletrack ratio improves as you progress. Good fun! Similar to Coed y Brenin's Karrimor but slightly less technical. We drove from there to the Ponderosa Ranch (Resturant/bar and cabins - £25 per cabin per night) near Dolgellau and did the Karrimor on Friday. It really is a sizzling good ride - lots of sustained technical singletrack and scary stuff! 26 miles took us about 2hrs 30mins. Great to put your head down and blast without need for a map.We self-catered at the cabin but noted the John Wayne Bar offers sixty-six ounce steaks at £28 as well as bar meals! On Saturday we rode the circuit of Llyn Irrdyn. Two big climbs and two great downhills. Spectacular views! Took about 1hr 50mins to do the 10 miles. (OK I was tired!)

FIVE TIPS FOR A WOMAN

1. It is important that a man helps you around the house and has a job.

2. It is important that a man makes you laugh.

3. It is important to find a man you can count on and who doesn't lie to you.

4. It is important that a man loves and spoils you.

5. It is important that these four men don't know each other.

What Shellsuit for Up North

(Discussion from the intelligentia of Singletrack Forum)

"Might be heading north next week for a job interview, so what sort of shellsuit should I be looking for? Full shine, bad colours, most garish branding or all 3?

I've got my flatcap and pipe and a bag of cotton dust so I reckon I'm pretty well set other than that.

bring ya shandy wi ya ya soft southern poof.

Just make sure its flamable

Tight and shiny.

oh hang on, thats pvc catsuits.

shome mishtake shurely ? Everyone knows there are no jobs up north.

Would a PVC catsuit be more appropriate then?

I have to confess to not really understanding their strange and degenerate ways.

a pvc catsuit would get you a certain type of job oop north.

bring a whipet and a curly wig and talk like you've got a load of gobstoppers in your mouth.you'll get in and out in time for the next episode of the jedi council (the shore strikes back!)

I found a rather nice Green and Purple shell at work the other day when I cleared out my old cupboards, circa early to mid eighties

Yours for the interview if you want, should be fine. Cheers dont forget to wear a fake burbury cap and tuck your shell suit bottoms into your long white socks and you'll fit right in.

ask your perspective boss if he wants a fight, that should see you through to middle management.

Depends whether you're being ironic, post-modern or old skool.

You know what I mean, like!

Wow, you lot are just the best.

The fight tip is a top one, I would've gone for the handshake and then blown my chances from the off.

I've had major ear hair implants as I heard this is typical among males (and females) of the frozens wastes.

Is there even a modern to be "post-" in the north?

oh i nearly forgot, don't have anymore than tupence h'penny in your pocket and ride to the interview on a fully ridgid hovis bike as suss is for whimps

DO eat blood pudding, tripe and dripping sandwiches.

DON'T spill their pints.

Oh! And don't put the shellsuit jacket on unless it's below -10.

Fahrenheit.

Blood pudding eh? That sounds nice, I take it it gets it's name from it's vivid scarlet colour?

I've got 7 goats teeth to cover most local transactions and an ounce of mildew as a backup 'bribe' as I hear it's a bit of delicacy.

Naturally, I'll keep a cool Pimms and Lemonade in the car mini-fridge just in case it doesn't go to plan and I need a good southern cry afterwards.

nay, black pudding by any other name. Black is the colour and blood the main ingredient (as I'm sure you know really). Although the mildew WILL put you on good terms with most don't flaunt it.

Friedrich Engels describes Manchester's riverside cafe district, yesterday:

... At the bottom flows, or rather stagnates, the Irk, a narrow, coal-black, foul-smelling stream, full of debris and refuse, which it deposits on the shallower right bank. In dry weather, a long string of the most disgusting, blackishgreen, slime pools are left standing on this bank, from the depths of which bubbles of miasmatic gas constantly arise 40 or 50 feet above the surface of the stream. But besides this, the stream itself is checked by every few paces by high weirs, behind which slime and refuse accumulate and rot in thick masses. Above the bridge are tanneries, bonemills, and gasworks, from which all drains and refuse find their way into the Irk, which receives further the contents of all the neighboring sewers and privies. It may be easily imagined, therefore, what sort of residue the stream deposits. Below the bridge you look upon the piles of debris, the refuse, filth, and offal from the courts on the steep left bank; here each house is packed close behind its neighbor and a piece of each is visible, all black, smoky, crumbling, ancient, with broken panes and window- frames.

yeah it's * here up north. stay down south please, before you move up here with your red braces and slicked back hair and push all our house prices through the roof with your 'buying a house for an investment' policy remember to leave only footprints and take only photos .if you leave anything from home there the house prices will go through the roof and the mills will have to close

Not so sure about the photo idea . . .

....the scene ... southener struggling in wicker man as the flames flicker upwards whilst an angry mob chants, "he stole our souls! he stole our souls!"

They have FIRE?

And skills to weave?

Oh my, this job interview may not be quite the breeze I had hoped for.

Dunnot about fire, but they have guns, I can tell you that much. If you see a golf glove and you ain't on the driving range, duck for cover according to the local newspaper...

BTW, courtesy of "The Idler"'s "Crap Towns" report:

The overiding 'look' for Stockport's locals is a shaven head with optional Fila cap / visor perched on top, a Reebok shell suit the legs of which are tucked into a pair of overpowering patterned socks and a pair of Rockport, Timberland or Kicker boots. Gold jewellry is popular, usually incorporating sovereigns and / or Marijuana leaf motifs. The male uniform is fairly similar.

 $\frac{N}{E} \\ \frac{X}{T}$

Perfect, thanks Jim.

It's in the (morrisons carrier) bag.

This is all well and good, but where can you get a brain installed? You're certainly going to need one before anyone in the North will think of you as anything other than a southern tosser. My own experience is that most of you shandy drinkers miss this important installation and come up North brainless.

'Appen

You'll not get your job. Scousers wear shell suits. In Newcastle it's Ben Sherman shirts and jeans that are tight around the arse.

I thought I'd cover most of the regional bases with one single all-encompassing northern uniform. Is this wrong?

Yep it only covers Scousers.

"dont forget to wear a fake burbury cap and tuck your shell suit bottoms into your long white socks and you'll fit right in."

Sad but true, tis all the rage round my estate.

Burberry caps for the terraces, Shell-Suits for Scouse scamps.

The only time ive known people tuck their trouser legs into their socks is on the footy training ground, and when not wanting to get one's chain-side trousers dirty - im guilty of that much.

Thanks to Burtons, Top-Shop, H&M and Primark, most males around the Newcastle area can now wear what they regard to be 'fashionable' items of clothing at knock-down prices.

And let's not forget TK Maxx: waging war on symbolic capital by flogging dkny, fc etc at knock-down prices.

It's a conspiracy i tells ya!

Hiya Looooov,

jus brin ja self to the intervieeeeeeeew.

an RRRRemember to bring ya kappa shell suit for the Liverpoooooool game,

"...and perhaps an oxygen mask in case there are any hills between where you travel to and where the interview is."

How will he know what a hill is if he's a southerner?

I can see it now...

" Jesus, cor blimey, what's that?"

I've seen them in books.

Vangrove No-Show

Sunday 19th Oct

Tony failed to lead his own ride yet again and everyone else was too tired (or whatever) to turn out. Harry and I did the Hope route from June's MBR which turned out to be a lot better than I expected. Quite tough but only 20 miles. The route finding was a little awkward but now that I know it (heh, heh) we will have to do it as a club ride. It has some evil terrain, especially if you start from Ladybower!

NEWS

Stairs Lane Defeat

Sunday 26th Oct

Carolyn led us round our familiar route. We all failed on the steep ascent. We blamed the wet and loose conditions. We noted that there are two routes around Pecket Well: one above the village going over High Brown Knoll which starts with a push; the other from behind the bus stop in the centre of the village which is JUST about cycl-able and then goes over Dimmin Dale. They meet just before the descent into Luddenden Dene where I made an unplanned dismount. We finished with a pleasant pint in front of the fire in the pub.

Mytholmroyd Challenge

Another MTB challenge where you get to ride on bridleways because, of course, you are not racing! 22 miles. Sun 16th Oct 9.15 start (unfortunately!) Details here from www.sowerbybridgembc.com

"Far better it is to dare mighty things, to win glorious triumphs, even though checkered by failure, than to take rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy much nor suffer much, because they lie in the gray twilight that knows not victory nor defeat."Theodore Roosevelt (1858–1919) Helen says:

After competing in the summer Polaris several times it was time for a bit more of a challenge, so Carolyn & Simon, Peter & myself decided to do this years Autumn Polaris. The starting point was Alston, the weather forecast was fairly good – dry during the day but cold at night. I wasn't looking forward to 7 hours of cycling especially with all the extra kit, my bag didn't feel too heavy but that could have been because Peter was carrying the tent, stove, gas & pans!

The first day was going quite well, we had 2 more checkpoints (40 points) to get and over an hour to do it when disaster struck – my rear rim split! In the end Peter took off the tyre & brakes and had to ride 6 miles to the overnight camp on the rim! We were only 7 minutes late back. (Which given our recent performances wasn't too bad.) We expected Carolyn & Trickett to have loads more points than us but they were only 7 points ahead, they'd had a bad day. Simon had decided to take the Bridleway to get to the first checkpoint rather than the permissive track and had to wade through the river to reach the checkpoint. Carolyn was also complaining that Simon had stopped to go shopping as well.

We all had plenty of food and plenty of sleep on the Saturday night, I luckily managed to borrow a wheel for the Sunday so was able to finish the event. Sunday was a much better day for Carolyn & Simon, they were back on form and got the highest score in our group – unfortunately it wasn't quite enough and they came 3rd. Peter & I came 4th, but got a spot prize for having cycled 6 miles on a rim – we both got cycling tops and gloves.

The big question now is whether or not any of us will do another one.

What films are these quotes from?

1. You don't get to tell me what to do ever again.

2. Houston, we have a problem.

3. A hospital? What is it? It's a big building with patients, but that's not important right now.

4. "There's no smoking in this building, Ms. Tramell." "What're you going do? Charge me with smoking?"

5. "Mistletoe can be deadly if .you eat it." "A kiss can be even deadlier if you mean it."

6. Roads? Where we're going we don't need roads.

7. Strange things are afoot at the Circle-K.

8. It's 106 miles to Chicago, we've got a full tank of gas, half a pack of cigarettes, it's dark and we're wearing sunglasses. Hit it!

9. Hey, how come Andrew gets to get up? If he gets up, we'll all get up, it'll be anarchy!

10. Don't worry Wilson, I'll do all the paddling. You just hang on!

11. So, laying eggs all your life and then getting stuffed and roasted, that's good enough for you, is it? It's a living.

12. That's not a knife. This is a knife.

13. Come out to the coast, we'll get together, have a few laughs...

14.1 know what you're thinking. Did he fire six shots or only five?

15. Ask any racer, any real racer. It doesn't matter if you win by an inch or a mile; winning's winning.

16. Mama always said life was like a box a chocolates, never know what you're gonna get.

17. Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it.

18. And I will have my vengeance, in this life or the next.
